

There is much scientific and anecdotal evidence that fracking increases the likelihood of natural gas extraction in the environment. Ground water is negatively impacted rendering it unsafe for consumption. Earth is disrupted and where fault lines exist it can increase the likelihood of earthquakes. Oil and natural gas extraction is not worth the risk. Please do not proceed with fracking.