

Keep Newfoundland and Labrador frack-free

Although I am not from Newfoundland and Labrador, I have serious anxiety about the continuation of fracking anywhere in Canada. Farmers in southern Alberta no longer have enough and safe water for their cattle, and it has to be trucked in. In northern BC, there have been many earthquakes recently, unheard of until a large amount of fracking took place. That alone should have people thinking twice. Please consider carefully.

Sincerely, L. Foss
