

I have only visited Nova Scotia and the Magdalene Islands in the Maritimes, but that was enough to make me realise that that is a very sensitive area, attracting wildlife, particularly birds, whose habitat must not be put at risk by fracking.

Sincerely,

M. Brown