

I feel that fracking is unsustainable as the water that's used for fracking is destroyed by the hazardous chemicals for the operations. I'm not from Newfoundland and Labrador but I feel as a Canadian citizen and a human being it's important to at least put this practice into abeyance until further study is completed. The gas that is released is also very deleterious to the environment. In addition, tourism and travel to these regions could be severely curtailed. Please halt this questionable practice until more is learned about it

Sincerely,

M. Piro
