

I believe that all of the "natural disasters" around the world is because we are destroying our environment. There is nothing "natural" about it. The land is raped of its trees and other vegetation. Then the oil companies bring in the man made monsters to further destroy the earth's surface in an effort to take whats below it. We have a beautiful world here on the west coast of NL .Let's keep it that way. DON"T FRACK OUR WEST COAST PLEASE!
